

ASD Symposium

13-14 September 2018

35 Berkeley Square
University of Bristol

ALCOHOLISM, STIGMA, AND DISABILITY SYMPOSIUM

- * The Individual
- * The Family
- * The Community
- * The Workplace
- * Policy and Policymakers
- * Clinical Treatment

Why Attend?

Alcohol is both a catalyst for good fellowship and a health concern. It has been the subject of fierce debates by social reformers, physicians, and politicians. Anxieties about alcohol, who should drink it, and how much they should drink have shaped laws, traditions, and medical practice. Indeed, alcoholism is not only a contemporary concern, but one with a long, complex history.

By exploring the intersection of alcoholism, stigma, and disability, this interdisciplinary symposium will contribute to understandings of the past and speak to present concerns over population health, regulation, and cultural perceptions. The event will help to refine the direction of research, inform an agenda for future activities, and contribute to best-practice initiatives for front-line staff.

Sessions

- Communities and Relationships: Why people drink
- Disabilities and Vulnerabilities: How stigma matters
- Fears and Risks: Who shapes ideas
- Realities and Adaptations: How people cope
- Identities and Challenges: Why gender matters
- Understandings and Treatments: Who shapes experience
- Ideas and Policies: What we do

Book Your Place

This free event is for physicians, policy-makers, researchers, and all those interested in understanding more about alcoholism, stigma, and disability.

<http://www.jakewalkblues.com/symposium>

Who Will Be Speaking?

- Havi Carel (University of Bristol)
- Hannah Farrimond (University of Exeter)
- Jamie Freeman (National Health Service)
- Sam Goodman (University of Bournemouth)
- Mark Hailwood (University of Bristol)
- Evan Jones (University of Bristol)
- Pam Lock (University of Bristol)
- Paul Lombardo (Georgia State University)
- Alison Mackiewicz (Aberystwyth University)
- Alice Mauger (University College Dublin)
- Stephen Mawdsley (University of Bristol)
- James Moran (University of Prince Edward Island)
- Stella Moss (Royal Holloway University)
- Christian O'Connell (University of Gloucestershire)
- Sujit Rathod (London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine)
- Patsy Staddon (Women's Independent Alcohol Support)
- Lauren MacIvor Thompson (Georgia State University)
- David Turner (Swansea University)
- Milica Vasiljevic (University of Cambridge)
- Tim Williams (National Health Service)
- Amy Wolstenholme (King's College London)
- Luisa Zuccolo (University of Bristol)

University of
BRISTOL

EVENT ORGANIZER: DR STEPHEN MAWDSLEY

Follow us on Twitter: @jakewalkblues (#asdsymposium2018)

Register for event: jakewalkblues.com/symposium

Contact us by e-mail: uob-asdsymposium2018@bristol.ac.uk

